

MEMORY IS THE STORY OF THE FUTURE

Have you or someone you know been active, for even a relatively short time, in UNITE or one of its legacy unions?

Interested in having your experiences recorded?

The Unite Oral History project would like to hear from you.

The memories of interviewees will be making a positive contribution to the writing of six books covering the period from 1922, when the Transport and General Workers Union was formed, till 2022.

By identifying with what has happened in the past interviewees can help guide the actions of present and future trade union activists. Your children and grandchildren need you! Future generations need you!

Across the union a number of interviews have taken place.

More are being organised.

WWW.THEUNITEHISTORYPROJECT.ORG

Get in touch if you would like to find out more. The interviews take place at a time and date that is convenient to you. There are male and female interviewers.

As well as speaking to people about their memories and experiences, we're also looking for:

- Historical artefacts including posters and badges
- Written materials including articles in local newspapers, branch newsletters and strike bulletins. Unpublished works by trade union activists
- Radio and tv recordings

INTERESTED IN HISTORY?

We are looking for volunteers to help with research and interviews across the region. For more information contact the team using the email address below.

APPEAL TO BRANCHES

Does your union branch possess minutes books, newsletters, leaflets, including specially produced ones for strikes or major events going back decades? How about photographs or posters? Badges? These will be invaluable.
